On Saturday, June 11, shipbuilders and the crew of Gerald R. Ford (CVN 78) successfully turned the 21st-century aircraft carrier at Newport News Shipbuilding. Ford's bow now faces the shipyard for the first time since her construction began. The turning of the ship is a major milestone in the life of an aircraft carrier, which facilitates final testing of the ship's systems, including the aircraft launch system.

VCS Program Expects "Buckets of Savings"

The Virginia-Class Submarine (VCS) Program recently implemented an idea that is expected to see "buckets of savings" for the company and reduce environmental impacts.

For years, VCS foremen have received materials in metal 5-gallon buckets. After the materials are used, the buckets are then placed into a scrap metal skiff and thrown away.

Employees Christopher Plummer (X84), Bob Lynn (X82) and Kenny Weeks (E83) came up with the idea of implementing a recycling program for the metal buckets, so that they can be reused multiple times before being scrapped.

With lead effort from Process Improvement Analyst Randy Burak (X51) and support from the VCS Program, VCS Construction Management and Material Logistics, the new program called "Buckets of Savings" is now in full swing and recycling baskets have been strategically placed around the Modular Outfitting Facility (MOF), the Supplemental Modular Outfitting Facility (SMOF) and the Covered Modular Assembly Facility (CMAF).

VCS Program Trades Director Willie Hayes recently cascaded a communication highlight to all VCS employees. "Recycling will always be a win-win... you eliminate cost on the purchase, on the disposal, and on the environment," he said. "How can you not recycle?"

NNS MODSIM Group Attends World Conference

In April, Newport News Shipbuilding's MODSIM group attended the 2016 MODSIM World Conference in Virginia Beach, VA. The focus of the conference was on exchanging modeling and simulation (M&S) best practices, knowledge and technology across industries.

During the conference, team members showcased M&S capabilities at NNS' booth. Members also participated in and organized several events, including track presentations, workshops, panels and the featured STEM event.

One of the highlights during the event was when Andrew Hinton (E04), was selected by a panel of distinguished judges as the winner of the conference's first-ever M&S Challenge Competition. The competition aims to cultivate an environment where talented individuals can use the power of M&S to solve problems important to their community, government, business or industry sector.

Apprentices Sean Coast (X42), Nick White (X42), Dylan Whitmore (X43), and Gary Nix (X43) represented The Apprentice School's fishing team during the tournament.

Bass Club Coach Rob Uzzle (X59) said, "These apprentices competed against some of the top collegiate fishermen in the country, and I couldn't be more proud. This tournament not only allowed our apprentices to showcase their talent, but it also allows for The Apprentice School to be represented along with some of the largest universities in the country."
