Master Shipbuilder Reaches Blood Donation Milestone of 25 Gallons

Master Shipbuilder Ernie Koehler (O45) reached a milestone on Aug. 18 for donating 25 gallons of blood to The American Red Cross bloodmobile at Newport News Shipbuilding.

Koehler, who has been recognized by the Facilities and Waterfront Support Division for frequently donating blood to NNS' bloodmobile said, "What motivates me to give blood is that I know that every pint can potentially help several people because my blood type is unique," said Koehler. "I've done this for so many years and I will keep doing it as long as I can."

The American Red Cross' bloodmobile visits NNS 48 times a year in various locations around the shipyard. To view the bloodmobile schedule, visit the K18 Corporate Citizenship and Government Relations website. For questions, contact Judy Fundak (K18) at 380-3011.

Career Pathways Hosts Students from "Ready 2 Work" Program

Career Pathways hosted students from the nonprofit organizations, VersAbility and Boys and Girls Clubs of the Virginia Peninsula, at The Apprentice School July 15. During the visit, volunteers from Radiological Control, Lab Services and Research and Development gave presentations about ongoing shipyard projects and Career Pathways led a duct tape boat-building activity.

Donations Needed to Support The American Red Cross for Louisiana Flood Relief

The devastating flooding in Louisiana has forced thousands of people from their homes with just the few things they could take with them.

The American Red Cross is providing food, shelter and relief supplies to those affected, but they need help. Ingalls Shipbuilding is on the Gulf Coast and some employees, their families and friends may be affected.

Please consider a donation to general disaster relief right now at the Huntington Ingalls Red Cross site: www.redcross.org/cm/huntingtoningalls-emp

NNS Engages Suppliers on Transition to Digital Shipbuilding Environment

More than 75 suppliers attended a joint meeting hosted by Newport News Shipbuilding and the Marine Machinery Association (MMA) at VASCIC Aug. 9. The purpose of the meeting was to give suppliers insight into how the company is transitioning to a digital shipbuilding environment and to start dialogue on how NNS could implement the same concepts with its supply chain. The full-day meeting consisted of a series of presentations, demonstrations and panel discussions regarding digital shipbuilding concepts and initiatives.

Engineering Planning Analyst Brett Cash (E45) was one of the presenters during the meeting. “Many of the challenges our craftsmen face here at Newport News Shipbuilding are similar to the challenges you face as shipbuilding suppliers,” Cash said. “If the mission of digital shipbuilding inside the gate is to improve the way we put 10,000 shipbuilders to work, then digital shipbuilding outside the gate is to improve the way we interface with the more than 2,000 suppliers we work with across the country.”

To provide suppliers with specific details about each product, NNS representatives manned 10 demonstrations, each featuring a major digital shipbuilding initiative. The suppliers were given two hours to rotate and visit each demo.

“The feedback we have received since the meeting has been very positive,” said Ray Montgomery, director of Technical and Material Engineering. “The MMA chairman of the board was very impressed. Most of the suppliers I spoke to were interested in working with us to improve the efficiency of our interactions.”

Career Pathways Hosts Students from “Ready 2 Work” Program

“Partnering with VersAbility and the Boys and Girls Clubs of the Virginia Peninsula’s ‘Ready 2 Work’ Program allowed us to showcase our Apprentice School and highlight the great work that happens at Newport News Shipbuilding to at risk high school juniors and seniors,” said Ron Murray vice president of Quality. “This is our second year supporting this important initiative, and Career Pathways has done a fantastic job of coordinating the event for us, and of course those that volunteered their time made it truly special for the kids.”

VersAbility has been employing individuals with disabilities in Hampton Roads for more than 60 years. Since 2014, NNS has continued contracting with the agency to produce pipe discs for submarines and aircraft carriers.

NNS 2016 School Tools Drive Concluded

For the past two weeks, Newport News Shipbuilding employees have donated everything from pencils to backpacks to scientific calculators in support of this year’s School Tools Drive. The drive concluded Friday, Aug. 19. Currently, volunteers are collecting the donated supplies from around the shipyard and preparing to distribute it to local students and schools. A special thank you to employees who donated to and assisted with this year’s drive. Results will be published in an upcoming edition of Currents.

8-Look Receives 1,000th Call

In July, the Manufacturing Division's 8-Look phone system received its 1,000th call since the automated line first began operating in 2014. The purpose of 8-Look is for Manufacturing employees to report safety issues and concerns.

"I've had really good success each time I call," said 8-Look's 1,000th caller X18 Foreman Austin Glover. "When you call 8-Look, you are required to answer a few questions and someone usually gets back with you in a day or so to let you know they are looking into the issue. Most of the time the issue gets resolved quickly."

When employees call 8-Look, all safety issues and concerns are looked into. If the caller has selected not to be anonymous, they will receive an initial response within 24 hours, and also a follow-up response as to how the issue was resolved. Over the past two years, the Manufacturing team has worked to reduce the response time by 45 percent. One of the ways the team has accomplished this is by keeping the safety supplies frequently needed to resolve safety issues on hand.

"The quick response time by the team shows our employees that the division is committed to safety and is working to create an injury-free workplace," said Manufacturing Safety Lead Bob Conway.

Currently, the 8-Look system is being implemented by other divisions with a goal of having the system implemented yard-wide by the first quarter of 2017. To learn more about the 8-Look call system, contact Bob Conway at 380-2337.
