140 Models of Excellence Honored

On Sept. 28, 140 employees were recognized with a 2016 Model of Excellence (MOE) Award during a ceremony held at the Newport News Marriott at City Center. The evening consisted of a reception and dinner followed by an awards presentation to honor recipients.

During his remarks, Newport News Shipbuilding President Matt Mulherin congratulated each award recipient on their extraordinary contributions and commitment to leadership, operational excellence, innovative excellence, customer satisfaction, and the courage to make a difference.

“You are passionate. You are innovative. And you never give up. You are our champions,” he said to the group of winners.

A highlights video featuring this year’s MOE recipients was also shown during the ceremony. View the highlights video and see a list of this year’s winners on the MyNNS homepage.

NNS Awarded Navy Contract for Submarine Repair Work

Newport News Shipbuilding announced last week that it was awarded a multiple-award indefinite delivery, indefinite quantity contract to assist with repairs on in-service, nuclear-powered submarines, special mission submersibles, moored training ships and submarine support facilities.

This type of contract is issued to multiple awardees. The contract establishes the scope of services or goods that can be ordered against it, the order requirements and the maximum cost allowance during the life of the contract. This contract has a cumulative ceiling value of $400 million and is valid through Sept. 30, 2021. The contract includes overhaul, maintenance, repair, modernization upgrades, technical engineering support, supplies and services, and nuclear-related support.

“We are proud to continue our support of the U.S. Navy by providing them with a submarine fleet that is second to none,” said Matt Needy, vice president of the Virginia-Class Submarine Program and Fleet Services, “and we appreciate the Navy’s confidence in Newport News Shipbuilding providing them with reliable submarine modernization in a timely and cost-effective manner.”

NNS Observes National Quality Month

Newport News Shipbuilding has a longstanding history of affirming its commitment to quality. In 1917, shipyard founder Collis P. Huntington set the tone for quality by unveiling The Huntington Memorial “rock” affixed with a plaque that reads, “We shall build good ships here, at a profit if we can, at a loss if we must, but always good ships.” In 1984, with a joint resolution by Congress and a proclamation by President Ronald Reagan, the American Society of Quality designated October as National Quality Month.

National Quality Month reinforces the critical role of quality not just at Newport News Shipbuilding, but in all areas of service and manufacturing.

NNS Awarded Planning Contract for USS Helena (SSN 725) Maintenance

Recently, Newport News Shipbuilding was awarded a $17.7 million contract to perform planning work in support of maintenance and modernization efforts on the submarine USS Helena (SSN 725).

Planning efforts will include design studies, risk assessments, engineering, material procurement and pre-fabrication, logistics, ship checks and planning documentation. Work will begin immediately and is expected to be completed in October 2017.

“Our shipbuilders are committed to providing quality engineering and planning services to our Navy customer,” said Matt Needy, vice president of the Virginia-Class Submarine Program and Fleet Services. “We recognize the importance of returning these submarines to the fleet with increased capability, and we are committed to do so on budget and on schedule.”

Newport News is one of only two U.S. shipyards capable of building nuclear-powered submarines and has a long history of performing ship repair projects for the U.S. government, ranging from paint repair to complete hull and machinery renovation.

“National Quality month allows us to focus on the strategic importance of quality and continuous improvement,” said Ron Murray, vice president of Quality. “Quality and continuous improvement are not only critically important in the great ships we design and build, but also critically important in the engagement of our workforce and interface with our customers.”

In observance of National Quality Month, the Quality division would like to hear from shipbuilders about what quality means to them. Throughout the month of October, employees are encouraged to share their thoughts, either through a discussion board located on the Quality division’s website or by replying to the Oct. 1 National Quality Month post on the Huntington Ingalls Facebook page. Employees who would like to share their thoughts, but do not have access to a computer, can contact Brian Ashley (O04) at 688-5038.

STRIDE to Recognize “National Coming Out Day”

Oct. 11 is recognized as “National Coming Out Day” to encourage LGBT individuals to share their personal stories with their friends, colleagues and loved ones.

“Coming out is important and puts a real face on a sometimes sensitive issue; and voicing support of our LGBT friends, family and colleagues is just as important for the community to continue moving forward,” said STRIDE Chair Jeremy Bustin.

STRIDE (Shipbuilders Together Realizing Inclusion, Diversity and Equality) will be publishing stories on its blog, and employees are encouraged to send stories to STRIDE_ERG@hii-nns.com.

“We all deserve the right to be confident in who we are,” said STRIDE Co-Chair Heather Rugnetta. “No one should feel ashamed of who they are.”

Join STRIDE on Oct. 11 at Chipotle in Hampton from 3:30 p.m. – 5:30 p.m. to support local Chipotle restaurants who are donating proceeds in support of “National Coming Out Day.”

The In-Service Aircraft Carrier (ISCVN) Division is now accepting nominations for its Quality Shipbuilder of the Week Award.

Every year in October, the ISCVN Division recognizes shipbuilders who demonstrate the highest level of commitment to first-time quality in their daily work.

Throughout the month of October, any nominee could be selected as a winner. At the end of the month, one of the nominees will be selected as the ISCVN Quality Shipbuilder of the Month. Employees interested in submitting nominations can ask their immediate supervisor to fill out the nomination form or contact Terry Gray (K69).

Time Charging - Did You Know?

When a manager is not able to approve his or her team's daily time due to travel or extended leave, the responsible manager can delegate the responsibility to another manager. A manager can also temporarily transfer approval to someone on their team, provided the employee being assigned this responsibility meets the following criteria:

1. The employee is not a non-exempt code 13 or 14.
2. The employee must have completed MyTime training for Supervisors of salaried employees.
3. The employee is assigned to the Makeup Supervisor role or a CUAS form has been submitted to change the person's role in MyTime.

In addition, MyTime resources and help is available for salaried employees and supervisors who use the new timekeeping tool. Before calling the MyTime Central Help Desk, read the Frequently Asked Questions and downloadable training guides on the Timekeeping Central website, or view the computer-based training modules in Learning Exchange. Call 688-5555 or the toll free number 844-849-TIME to reach the MyTime Central help desk. Representatives are available during all three shifts, Monday through Friday.

NNS' ISO 14001 and ISO 9001 Audits Completed

Newport News Shipbuilding held surveillance audits of its Environmental Management System (EMS) and its Quality Management System (QMS) Sept. 19 - 22. The American Bureau of Shipbuilding Quality Evaluations (ABS-QE) conducted both audits.

The results of both audits were deemed successful, with the Quality Management System (QMS) being recommended for ISO 9001 continued certification and the EMS system being commended through the ISO 14001 audit. "NNS is well established, especially for a facility this large and complex," said one auditor from ABS-QE. "I encourage employees to keep the momentum going."

For questions related to the Environmental Management System (EMS) audit, contact Dwain Jenkins (O27) at 534-4066, and for questions related to Quality Management System audit, contact Tony Burger (O06) at 534-3222.

Employee Phone Line Reminder

With the potential for Hampton Roads to be affected by Hurricane Matthew later this week, employees are reminded to call the Employee Information Phone Line at 1-877-871-2058 for information regarding the current status of Newport News Shipbuilding operations. For additional information on how you can be prepared for inclement weather, visit NNS' severe weather resources page on the NNS website. As a reminder, important updates and notifications are also posted on the Huntington Ingalls Industries Facebook and Twitter pages.

Employee Engagement Survey is Ongoing

As a reminder, this year's employee engagement survey is underway. Salaried employees should have received an email from Gallup [survey@gallupmail.com] with an invitation to participate in the engagement survey. Questions have arisen about the authenticity of the email since a portion of the subject line and content was in Spanish and English. Because the survey is deployed across the HII enterprise, it was sent in both languages as many of our employees use Spanish as their primary language. The email is approved and it is appropriate to open the link and use the access code provided to participate in the survey. Hourly employees will be given a paper copy of the survey.

The 17-question survey is entirely confidential and shouldn't take longer than 15 minutes to complete (note: participating hourly employees will be paid for time spent completing the survey).

Newport News Shipbuilding's senior leadership team takes the results of this survey very seriously and uses them to help each team learn what they can do to create a positive workplace where all employees can thrive. Company survey results will be shared with all employees at a later date.
