

Washington Completes Initial Sea Trials

The newest Virginia-class submarine Washington (SSN 787) successfully completed its sea trials on Sunday, April 2.

“The ship and its crew performed exceptionally well,” said Matt Needy, vice president of Submarines and Fleet Support. “It was truly an amazing process to see the hundreds of suppliers and the many thousands of shipbuilders from both Newport News and Electric Boat work closely with the ship’s crew to bring this great warship to life.”

All systems, components and compartments were tested during the trials. The submarine submerged for the first time and operated at high speeds on the surface and underwater. Washington will undergo a round of acceptance trials before delivery to the Navy by Newport News.

Construction of Washington, which began in September 2011, marked the beginning of the VCS program’s two-submarines-per-year build plan for Newport News.

Inclusion + Diversity

The following video message from NNS President Matt Mulherin was sent to employees on April 3. Please take a moment to watch the video or read the message below.

Dear Shipbuilders,

I'd like to take a moment to speak with you about our inclusion and diversity (I&D) efforts. Hopefully you have seen the videos we began publishing last year about what I&D is and what it feels like to be excluded because of things like gender, race, appearance, height, weight and age.

I want to thank the shipbuilders who volunteered to share their stories. You have helped all of us to better understand the unintentional biases people have. It's only through honest conversations that we can move forward on our journey. With that in mind, we will be expanding our focus about why it's important to be inclusive and to embrace diversity of thought.

Martin Luther King Jr. was a great leader who embodied these beliefs. He once said, "We must live together as brothers or perish together as fools." April 4 marks the 49th anniversary of Dr. King's assassination. I ask each of you to take a moment this week to remember him, to think about his mission, and to reflect on how far – or maybe in some respects how little – we've come since his death.

From a company perspective, we'll be conducting more interviews with shipbuilders this year, and you'll soon be hearing their personal stories about how and why I&D matters.

I encourage each of you to consider sharing your stories – either as part of our company-wide campaign or in your work teams. I cannot stress enough the importance of open and honest conversations about this topic. Thank you for your support, your consideration and your willingness to make a difference.

Sincerely,

Matt Mulherin

Congratulations FQS Graduates

Five new foremen completed the final step in the Foreman Qualification Standards (FQS) by completing the General Foreman's Proficiency Board in February. FQS is a program used by general foremen to mentor, track progress and establish a framework for successful performance. Upon completion of all tasks in the guide, foreman appear before a board of peer general foremen. The candidate is then evaluated through a series of questions related to how the foreman demonstrates the desired leadership and management behaviors on the job. The process is rigorous and requires significant time investment from all participants. Since the program's start in 2012, a total of 128 foremen have successfully completed the process.

North Yard Parking Impacts; 300 Additional Spaces to Be Added to North Hidens

In April, approximately 408 parking spaces in the North Yard will be affected due to road and infrastructure construction in support of the Joint Manufacturing Assembly Facility (JMAF). Of the 408 spaces affected, 329 spaces will be returned as soon as possible in the coming months; 79 spaces will be permanently lost. View a map of the affected areas.

In an effort to offset the loss of parking, the company will be expanding North Hidens by adding 300 new parking spaces during the month of April. North Hidens is a parking lot located off Warwick Blvd. and is available to all NNS employees. The company provides a free Park-and-Ride shuttle to and from the shipyard to this parking lot. When the new parking spaces are added to North Hidens, additional shuttle buses will be added to the Park-and-Ride route to accommodate the increase of shuttle users.

The Park-and-Ride Shuttle operates from 5 a.m. to 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. As a reminder, when the shuttle service is not operating, employees can use the company's taxi service, which is available from 7:15 a.m. to 3:10 p.m. and 3:45 p.m. to 1:10 a.m. Monday through Friday; the taxi service can be scheduled during these hours by calling 846-7730.

NNS Celebrates National Nutrition Month

To celebrate National Nutrition Month (March), Interactive Health offered cooking demonstrations to employees last week. Demonstrations were provided at Bldg. 520 and at VASCIC. Registered Dietician and Nutritionist Gabrielle Willis (O28) led the demonstrations and showed shipbuilders how to make a healthy chicken burrito bowl using healthy alternatives. Healthy recipes were also provided to employees during the demonstration as well as confidential blood pressure readings.

"The turnout was great and the recipe was well received," said Willis. "Cooking demos are a fun way to engage with employees and show them how simple, affordable, and tasty healthy cooking can be."

Dan Bamford (E04) said, "With a busy schedule and having three young kids who are picky eaters, it was nice to learn how to make something healthy with ingredients everyone will enjoy."

MODSIM Shares Expertise at Waste Management

Employees from Newport News Shipbuilding's Modeling and Simulation (MODSIM) Department participated in the 2017 Waste Management Conference in Phoenix, Arizona, March 5-9. The annual conference provides a global forum for discussing and seeking cost-effective and environmentally responsible solutions to the safe management and disposition of radioactive waste and materials.

MODSIM representatives Russ Shaffer (E04) and Stefani Werner (E04) provided a presentation during the event and offered a question and answer session that focused on the team's implementation of a process simulation model at the Savannah River Nuclear Solutions site. The team's model is being used at the site to assist in increasing the efficiency and production rate of a 50 year old nuclear material processing facility.

"The Waste Management Symposia provides an excellent opportunity for our employees to present papers, attend technical sessions, and interact with other industry leaders," said Werner. "We enjoyed supporting the conference and look forward to participating again."

A Team That Works Together, Learns Together

A Surface Preparation and Treatment (X33) crew participated in "Learning Day," March 30. The crew's leadership, Lead General Foremen Robert Patsell, General Foreman Hienz Trulley and Foreman Patti Richardson, lead the activity for the third shift crew.

"We spent two hours guiding the crew through a series of interactive activity stations," said Patsell. "The activities were designed to educate crew members on procedural requirements, ethical principles for ensuring quality work, and important work-related facts."

Marine Painter Nancy King said, "The activity was a fun way for us to come together to learn about the work requirements and be reminded of who our customers are. It means a lot that our leadership took time to plan this activity for us."

Trulley said "Learning Day" for the crew was very beneficial. "This team has been through a lot of change with foreman turnover, and each time a new foreman comes in, there are new expectations and leadership styles," he said. "This event gives us an opportunity to bring them together, to show them that we care, and to encourage them to not lose focus of what needs to be done."

The event concluded with Richardson providing a recap of the two hour session and left the crew with words of motivation. "We must all come to work every day with gratitude which can't be taught," she said. "We have to realize that there are a lot of people waiting for our jobs and we can't come in here every day as if someone owes us this job. We need to come in with gratitude and be grateful that we woke up and that we have somewhere to go to be able to provide for our families."

Shipbuilder Steering the Way

Recently, while performing surveillance, Quality Analyst Kevin Roberson (K93) noticed a recall date was expired on a wire pendant holding a heavy piece of metal structure. Understanding that there could be potential for severe injury and equipment damage if the wire pendant were to fail, Roberson immediately informed Department X36, who took prompt action to move the structure into a safe condition. To recognize Roberson's attention to detail and swift action, Ron Murray, vice president of Quality, met with Roberson on March 17 to present him with a Level 1 Ethics Award.

"Every day, employees in quality are in the field ensuring NNS products and services are meeting customer requirements, said Murray. "At the same time, these same folks are in the field ensuring that shipbuilders stay safe. Kevin's actions proved his commitment to both quality and safety and I'm proud to have him on my team." To nominate a fellow employee for an On-the-Spot Ethics Award, visit the EEO, Ethics and Compliance website on MyNNS or contact Catrina Hagwood (O18) at 688-1907.

For example, First shift approvers have until 9 a.m. on the following business day to validate time.

Employees and managers are encouraged to review this procedure in Command Media and to contact Payroll for questions.

Notice: Motorcycle, Moped and Scooter Owners

Recently, Newport News Police have noticed an increase in the number of reports for stolen motorcycles and mopeds. Because they are very easy to steal, detectives are asking motorcycle, moped and scooter owners to better secure their vehicles and offer the following tips:

- Owners should document a complete description of their moped or scooter including the serial number and maintain the information in a safe place.
- Owners should avoid chaining their mopeds and scooters overnight in areas where they are easily seen. Many of these thefts involve the suspects cutting the chains or locks. Detectives recommend storing them in a garage or other secure facility.
- Avoid parking motorcycles out in the open and in poorly lit areas. As with mopeds and scooters, detectives suggest storing motorcycles out of sight in a garage or other out building or otherwise concealed from view as much as possible. If none of these measures are possible, detectives suggest parking motorcycles in brightly lit areas near other vehicles.

Shipbuilders are encouraged to report any suspicious activity to *911 or 380-2222.
