Summer at the Shipyard: NNS Welcomes 161 Interns

Newport News Shipbuilding began welcoming summer interns to the shipyard May 5. This summer, NNS will employ 161 students from 49 colleges and universities around the country. To familiarize the students with the shipyard, the Human Resources and Administration Division is sponsoring an interactive summer program modeled after the Engineering and Design Summer Intern Program that was launched in 2016. The program is open to all interns and includes a series of tours, demos and professional development opportunities. Susan Jacobs, vice president of Human Resources and Administration, kicked off the program with meet and greet events May 30-31.

"I want to personally welcome you to Newport News Shipbuilding – we are so happy that you are here," said Jacobs. "Throughout the summer, I encourage you to take advantage of every opportunity you are afforded, ask questions and learn as much as possible."

Indiana (SSN 789) Successfully Launched into James River

Newport News Shipbuilding successfully launched Indiana (SSN 789) into the James River June 3-4. The submarine was moved out of a construction facility into a floating dry dock using a transfer car system. The floating dry dock was submerged, and the approximately 7,800-ton submarine was then launched into the James River and moved to a shipyard pier for final outfitting, testing and crew certification.

"Launch is a true testament to our shipbuilders' roughly four years of hard work," said Matt Needy, vice president of Submarines and Fleet Support. "Over the next several months, we will work closely with the Indiana crew to bring this great ship to life. With the Navy's recent increase in SSN force structure requirements from 48 to 66 submarines, the shipbuilders here at Newport News and at our teaming partner, Electric Boat, understand the importance of getting these highly valued ships delivered and ready for mission-tasking by our Navy leadership."

Cmdr. Jesse Zimbauer, Indiana's commanding officer, said, "Our Indiana sailors are honored to be at the helm as the newest Hoosier boat launches into a new chapter at sea."

Temple Appointed to Vice President of Strategic Sourcing

In a letter sent to employees on June 5, Newport News Shipbuilding President Matt Mulherin and Incoming President Jennifer Boykin announced John Temple's appointment to vice president of the Strategic Sourcing Division. Temple will immediately assume his new position and transition into the job with the help of Rob Hogan, who temporarily served as vice president of both Manufacturing and Supply Chain Management for the past two years.

Read the letter on MyNNS. Temple and Hogan's biographies are available on the company's external website.

Summer at the Shipyard

The program’s first tour kicked off June 5-9 with a walkthrough of NNS’ Digital Shipbuilding Mobile Experience (MX). The students were given an interactive tour showcasing how the 53-foot mobile trailer will be used for training and recruiting the next-generation shipbuilder. Inside, students experienced how shipbuilders are learning to use digital tools like Visual Work Instructions and Visual Build Management.

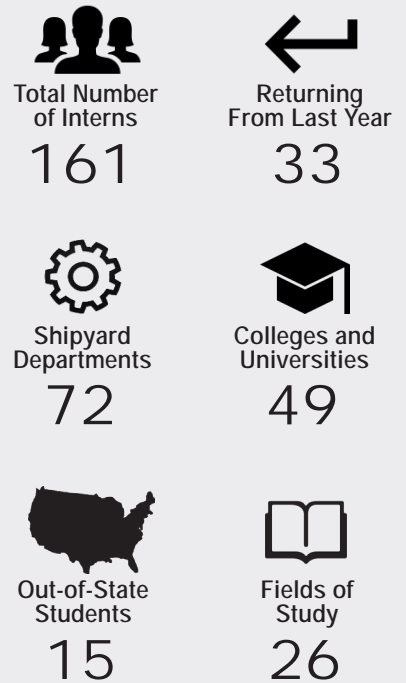

“I was most impressed with how tablets are being used on the deckplate,” said Summer Intern Brenna Murray (O28). “We are constantly surrounded by technology in our day-to-day lives and it’s exciting to see the same technology that we use each day is helping to build ships faster and more efficiently. Giving shipbuilder’s the information they need on a tablet instead of on paper is very exciting.”

The second tour focused on Augmented Reality (AR), allowing interns to see how cutting edge technology is being applied to shipbuilding. This tour also consisted of an explanation of AR technology and hands on experience.

“The AR demo gave me a much better understanding of the shipyard’s integration of modern technology in order to improve the quality and the processes involved in building the most advanced ships in the world,” said Summer Intern Stephen O’Donnell (E25). “After seeing the demo for two years in a row, I have been able to witness the advancements that the AR team is making in order to bring us closer to our vision of integrated Digital Shipbuilding and a new era of production.”

Tours and developmental opportunities will continue throughout the summer.

The sessions were held on the roadway between the Modular Outfitting Facility (MOF) and Supplemental Module Outfitting Facility (SMOF) and in the material laydown area by Pier 3.

Three more town halls are scheduled for the remainder of June, including the rescheduled town hall session planned for the “Rock” on June 16 at noon; additional sessions will be held for employees working offsite. Shipbuilders are asked to attend the event closest to their worksite. For additional information regarding dates, times and location of town hall sessions, view the flier. As a reminder, normal PPE (personal protective equipment) rules apply.

OSHA's "Safe and Sound" Week: June 12-16

Each year, OSHA invites companies across the nation to participate in "Safe and Sound Week," a week dedicated to raising awareness and understanding the value of safety and health programs in the workplace. This year, the Environmental Health and Safety (EH&S) team will use the week to continue its safety campaign, "Don't Gamble with Your Life," which focuses on the top three hazardous jobs in the shipyard: containing hazardous energy, confined space entry, and working from elevated heights. Posters and banners have been hung throughout the shipyard and lanyards will be distributed to craftsmen. EH&S encourages all shipbuilders to take this week to get involved and promote a safety conscious culture throughout the shipyard. Below are some of the ways NNS will participate in "Safe and Sound" Week:

- Video: Will serve as an opportunity to hear personal stories from the company's leadership in regards to safety. Watch the video on MyNNS.
- Safety Search Contest: Visit EH&S' website to print "Safety Search" illustrations and to see how many hazards you can identify! Submit answers to O27 and don't forget to include your name, department, and work location on the back of each illustration. Shipbuilders who correctly identify all hazards, as well as the division with the most participation and correct answers will be recognized.
- Safety Swap: EH&S Task Teams will be encouraged to pair up or swap areas with other EH&S Task Teams and inspect worksites they normally would not frequent June 12-18.

LGBT Pride Month Feature: Priya Mohammed-Jones

Newport News Shipbuilding will recognize LGBT Pride Month throughout the month of June. This year's theme is, "Our Pride is Building" and four versions of an awareness poster have been distributed to worksites across the shipyard; each poster features one NNS shipbuilder. For the remainder of June, a question and answer feature highlighting each shipbuilder will be published in Currents and on the NNS to Go app.

This week's spotlight is on Nuclear Engineer Priya Mohammed-Jones (E86). She has worked at NNS for four years and is responsible for providing engineering support to new carrier construction.

Why is LGBT Pride Month important to you?
It showcases the accomplishments of people like me and it gives hope to those who are scared to be their true selves.

Why is it important that our company is inclusive and diverse?

Being inclusive means finding value with experiences and backgrounds of all the people. Because there are a lot of talented people, who would make a huge contribution to the company, that would otherwise work somewhere else if the company wasn't diverse. In my field of work, I don't and could never know the answers to the all issues that pop up during new construction, so I have to rely on others and their diverse background to formulate engineering resolutions.

What does the company's theme, "Our Pride is Building" mean to you?

For me, this theme has a double meaning. The first is that we all, as a shipyard, take pride in what we do to build good ships for the NAVY; no matter what our backgrounds are. Second, although a lot of progress has been made with regards to recognizing diversity and having inclusion, the company recognizes that there is more progress to be made. Progress isn't instantaneous, it takes hard work and time for change to be made.

If people don't see eye-to-eye on a particular issue, why should they still have respect for the person?

Because, despite our difference of opinion, we need to realize that the person we disagree with have more things in common with us. They are going through the same struggles to get by just like you and I. At the end of the day, we all want to be loved, respected, be a good person, have families and have fun.

North Yard Reminder

Newport News Shipbuilding has received several phone calls recently from residents in the areas around the North Yard regarding employees walking on citizens' personal property. NNS would like to remind all shipbuilders to stay on city property and not trespass on private property in the area. Thank you in advance for your cooperation.
