NNS Issues New Employee Badges

Security and Emergency Management began issuing new, more secure identification badges to all Newport News Shipbuilding employees, contractors and visitors on Sept. 1. Department security representatives are coordinating the distribution of the new badges and collection of existing badges. Updated employee photos are not required. NNS' Access Center will replace contractor and visitor badges as they expire during the next 12 months.

"The initiative is going smoothly and according to plan," said Access Center Manager Jay Stefanick. "With the assistance of the department security representatives, I expect all NNS employees to receive their new badge by Oct. 31."

The new badges cannot be punched with a hole for a badge clip. Therefore, badges are being distributed with hard plastic cases that protect against damage and can be connected to badge clips or lanyards.

New fees go into effect Oct. 1 for shipbuilders and others who need to replace NNS badges that have been lost or forgotten. The first replacement will cost $10. A second replacement badge will cost $15, and a third will cost $20. A fourth replacement badge will cost $25 and requires approval from the director of Security and either Human Resources, Labor Relations or the appropriate sponsor for a non-employee.

For more information about the new badges, view a list of frequently asked questions on MyNNS or contact Daryl Hagwood (O15) at 688-2464.

Merit Salary Increases to Return

Newport News Shipbuilding President Jennifer Boykin announced Sept. 7 that the company is reinstating merit increases for salaried employees on Feb. 19, 2018.

"I know it's been difficult not earning a salary increase during these past two years, and I want you to know that I appreciate your commitment," Boykin wrote in a letter to shipbuilders.

In addition, some salaried employees will receive market adjustments, effective Oct. 2, 2017. Salaried employees hired prior to 2016 will receive a 1.6 percent market adjustment to their base salary. Salaried employees hired in 2016 will receive a 1 percent market adjustment to their base salary. The increase does not apply to co-ops, summer interns, anyone hired in 2017 nor senior executives.

VCS Program Kicks Off New Block of Submarines

Newport News Shipbuilding's Virginia-Class Submarine (VCS) Program and Structural Fabrication and Assembly (SFA) kicked off early manufacturing efforts for Block V submarines with a "Flame On" ceremony in the Steel Fabrication Shop in August.

VCS shipbuilders involved in all aspects of construction attended the ceremony – including production, construction, engineering, finance, planning, production control, materials management and strategic sourcing.

During the ceremony, VCS Program Director Justin Byrum spoke about technical challenges and the importance of Block V for the U.S. Navy, the nation and NNS. SFA Director Barry Fallon initiated the flame and provided insight about the equipment, technique and process involved in transforming a flat piece of steel into a Block V shipboard structural component.

Shipbuilder Gerald Bish (X15) performed the cutting operation. "The cut was pretty easy and went well. It's a cut we perform a lot, but this was the first time I've ever had to do it with an audience."

Bish added that kicking off a new block of submarines was encouraging. "Anytime you hear that jobs are rolling in, it's always a good thing," he said.

Block V submarines will feature a number of ship improvements including the Virginia Payload Module (VPM) and an increased emphasis on acoustic superiority. NNS' overall VCS work scope will increase with the incorporation of VPM as well as additional ship deliveries compared to previous blocks.

Contract award of Block V is anticipated in 2018. Construction on the first ship is expected to start in 2019.

Newport News Shipbuilding

September 7, 2017

Dear Shipbuilders:

During the town hall meetings this past summer, I discussed that my top priorities are people and technology. Since then, we have reinstated our tuition reimbursement program for all employees. We also reached a new 52-month labor contract with the United Steelworkers, offering a fair compensation and benefits package for our hourly workforce, including use of the HII Family Health Center.

Today, I am pleased to announce our next people-focused action. For our salaried workforce, we are reinstating merit increases on February 19, 2018. I know it's been difficult not earning a salary increase during these past two years, and I want you to know that I appreciate your commitment.

Therefore, in appreciation of our salaried workforce who have stuck with us during this difficult time and remained dedicated to NNS and our mission, we are also making the following market adjustments this year, effective October 2, 2017:

- NNS Salaried employees hired prior to 2016 will receive a 1.60% market adjustment to their base salary.
- NNS Salaried employees hired in 2016 will receive a 1.0% market adjustment to their base salary.
- This increase does not apply to Co-Ops, summer interns, or anyone hired in 2017, nor any senior executives.

Additional information about these salary adjustments will be provided by our Human Resources division. Thank you again for your patience and steadfastness these past two years. I continue to look forward to creating a future we can all believe in and feel part of.

All the best,

Jennifer Boykin
President
